Advent Means Together

Our Advent calendar begins the November 29 reading this way:

“Advent is ours.
Neither you alone, or I in isolation, wait.
We wait. For blessed hope, for revealed glory, for God, who looked at humankind and said
we should not be alone, but together.
So we’re in it together, this stretch of darkening days
that our Christian forebears called Advent.
It means “to come to,” means “an arrival.”

I have recently been in several phone conversations with my brother, sister and mother. Each year at Christmas they enter into a battle of wills over where they will all celebrate Christmas. Will it be at my sister’s house or my mother’s? Will my brother spend it with his daughter and her husband? One year they were even here in Louisville at our house. Each year I am reminded of how Advent is a time of coming together and yet how many ways we find to disagree, rather than cooperate.

Recently I gave the prayer of dedication for the Ann Kirk Habitat house in West Louisville. Ann, as many of you know, was a very faithful member of Harvey Browne and a dear friend to so many of us. We waited for the dedication service in the midst of hammers banging and saws whining away. Volunteers were busy and, in a day and a half, the second story was already up. It is truly amazing what can happen when people come together to share a common vision. Advent is about sharing a common vision that centers on our hope in God.

Back to our poem:

“We have come to the winter of our faith.
We have arrived at the season of our stress.
What better time to practice prayerful
Presence than this month of yearnings yet unrealized?”

Blessed are we whose calendars crowd with obligations,
Whose heads clog with colds, whose roads narrow,
snow-choked,
Whose churches swell with uneasy seekers drawn Christward;
The Savior has been who we are.
When he returns as promised, he will surely find us anxious.
Will he find us together?

HBPres has started a St. Matthews Winter Farmers' Market. We are extending the Beargrass Christian Church tradition of hosting the farmers' market right here at HBPres. The market started Nov. 7 and continues through the last weekend of April. The times are 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Come out and support a new tradition at HBPres. If you have any questions, speak with Larry Brandenburg and/or Doug Earley.

HBPres University Advent Classes

The Mariners Class will be looking at selections from "The First Christmas" during Advent.

Tim Cargal & Bill Williamson will be leading a study of the prophetic texts in Advent which will be tied to the ones used in Handel's Messiah.

Together With Jesus & Fast Faith will also explore Christmas themes.

My prayer for Harvey Browne Church this Advent-Christmas season is that we unite in common purpose around the one who calls us to kneel at the manger that cradles the Christ child. May we come together to build our church just as those volunteers came together to build the Ann Kirk house.

May this Advent be for you a time of preparation and coming together and may you have a meaningful and merry Christmas.

John

P.S. – The new owners of the Ann Kirk house are from Burma. Many of you will recall that our former associate pastor, Hmingi Browne, was from Burma. She has moved on to do ministry in Florida but her sister, L.T., and brother-in-law, Run, and their son, Joshua Thang, still worship here at HBPres. Ann and Hmingi spent many hours working together on the Outreach Council, so I am sure Ann is proud of this connection.

Winter is here so please check WHAS11.com (TV and website) and HBPres.net for closings and cancellations. If Jefferson County Public schools are closed, the building will be closed.

Worship News...

Early Service Returning to 8:30 a.m.

Ecclesia reformata, semper reformanda - The Church reformed, yet always reforming. This phrase has been a guide for the churches of the Reformed faith for centuries. It tells that even though we are rooted in the word of God, we still must be open to how the spirit may lead us in understanding God's word to us in a changing and challenging culture.

In response to this, the Session of HBPres charged the Worship and Music Committee to explore opportunities for us to have a contemporary worship service on Sunday morning. After several months of study and research, including several open discussion forums, the decision was made to combine the 8:30 and 10:00 worship services into one service at 9:00 a.m. The new combined service started on September 20.

However, after a few weeks it became apparent that the new service was not going to meet the worship needs of the combined groups. After much prayer, thought and discussion, the Worship and Music Committee recommended to Session that the 9:00 service return to its regular 8:30 time, utilizing the more traditional format it has used in the past, beginning Sunday, December 6.

The committee also informed Session that it was exploring starting a contemporary service on Saturday evening under the leadership of our new Youth Director, Mario Ransan. Mario has had considerable experience in planning and leading contemporary services. The new service will begin on January 9, 2016 and will utilize the space currently referred to as The Loft.

We are praying the spirit is leading us in this direction as we as remain faithful to our reformed roots, yet are open to reforming.

The Worship and Music Committee

College/Young Adult Service

Starting on the second Saturday of January (Jan. 9), HBPres will offer its first ever worship for collegians and young adults. The service will take place every Saturday from 5:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. in The Loft.

I will be preaching and heading up that service, so come ready for something a little different. We are in the process of putting a band together; if you are interested in playing with us please let me know.

We are also looking for adult leaders who would be interested in helping out in the service. As we approach January 9 more announcements will be made about the service. Keep an eye out for it.

In Christ,
Mario Ransan

Notes from Session:

HBPres Vision Statement

Harvey Browne Church is a community of Believers that glorifies God and honors tradition as it seeks new ways of growing in faith, sharing our beliefs and putting our faith into practice.

HBPres Purpose Statement

HBPres is called to make a difference by making disciples who faithfully follow Jesus, study the Bible, and love one another by serving our neighbors.

The Session of HBPres met on November 3, 2015 for a stated meeting. Will Hilyerd led the Session in devotion. The following business was handled at that meeting:

- It was reported that Julian Quick has repaid HBPres $55,000 as full payment for missing funds removed from our account.
- Will Hilyerd reported on the work of Support Committee this past year.
- Carol Tinkle gave a report from Harvey Bowne Preschool's Board of Directors.
- Doug Mann reported the Centennial Capital Campaign is going well. It is $100,000 short of its goal of $465,000. The congregation will be informed that their pledge can be paid over a few years rather than just during 2016.
- Doug Earley reported the Winter Farmers' Market will be in Emory Hall on Saturdays, beginning November 7, and run through April 26. It will be closed during some holiday Saturdays. We have 20-25 vendors with more interested in joining. All vendors will be KY Proud. Income from the Farmers' Market will go towards general maintenance of our building.
- Session will have its one-day winter retreat on January 23. A weekend retreat will be in May once new elders are ordained and installed.
- Allen Gilfert reported that the contemporary service at 9:00 a.m. was not working for either the musicians or those attending the service. The Worship and Music Committee is looking into other options for a contemporary service. Session voted to change the time for HBPres' early service from 9:00 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. beginning December 6.* This change will accommodate staff commitments.

Session's next stated meeting will be during its winter retreat on January 23, 2016.

Centennial Happenings

Are We Still Going to Have a Memorial Garden?

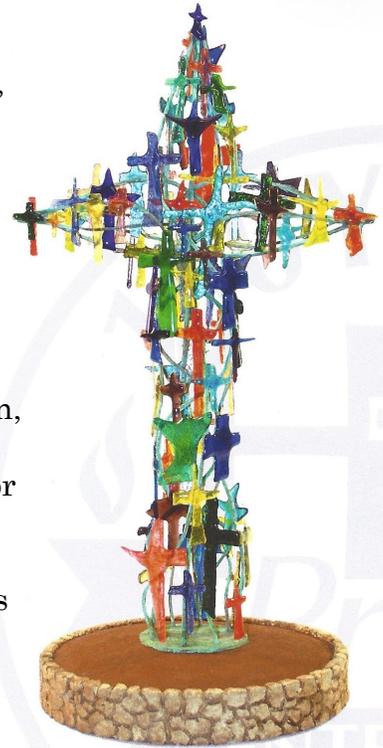

Yes but with one modification from what was originally envisioned.

The original plan was to permit church members to inter loved ones' ashes in the garden. Upon further exploration, however, we determined that doing so would impose too many legal restrictions on the church and its property because we would be, in effect, creating a cemetery on the front lawn. It still will be possible for members to memorialize their loved ones with their names on engraved paving stones in the garden.

The memorial garden is one of the goals of our Centennial Campaign, which also include a glass and bronze cross sculpture in front of the church, a new informational sign, repairs to the roof and the elevator outside Eline Hall, a contribution to Habitat for Humanity and the replenishing of our Facilities Reserve Fund. The cross and garden will recognize 100 years of ministry and mission to the St. Matthews community.

We have had a good response to our Centennial Campaign but we still have a way to go in order to reach our goal of $465,000. If you have not yet made your gift, we hope you will do so in order to ensure our success.

Quilters Go Around the Centennial Block

The HBPres quilters have discovered a traditional quilt block named "Centennial." As part of our church's Centennial celebration, they are making small craft items using this design. Starting November 22 and during Advent, they will offer ornaments and hot pads for sale at a modest price. They will also take special orders for table linens—place mats and table runners in the colors of your choice—made using the Centennial quilt block. Pictured here is the basic Centennial block design and an ornament made in HBPres colors.

Make a Joyful Noise!

Come one, come all for an old fashioned Christmas Caroling Party. No experience needed. All you have to do is "Make a Joyful Noise!" The date and time will be revealed after Thanksgiving. Please join us!

Chili Cook Off

The HBPres Chili Cook Off is back! Fine tune your favorite chili recipe over the holidays and enter the contest for the "Centennial Chili." See you on Wednesday, February 3, 2016 in Emory Hall.

Literary Corner

Ladies Book Talk

Book Talk will meet on Tuesday, December 29 at 11:30 a.m. in the Barret Room at HBPres. We will discuss Lucky Us by Amy Bloom. Bring your lunch. If you have any questions, please contact Mary Faltin at 326-5069 or maryfaltin@yahoo.com.

Men's Book Forum

We will meet on Monday, December 7, for our annual Christmas dinner. The dinner will be at the Bristol Bar & Grill on Hurstbourne Pkwy. at 6:30 p.m. Please contact Gary Faltin for a reservation. We will also be meeting for our normal book discussion on Monday, January 4, 2016 at 1:00 p.m. in Room 206 to review the book, The Wright Brothers, by David McCullough. Contact Gary Faltin at 326-5069 or gfaltin@yahoo.com for more information.

Bookanalia

Will not meet during the month of December. In January, Molly Pollock and Sara Ritchie are presenting Longbourn by Jo Baker. To increase your fun in reading it, you may also want to re-read or see a movie about Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice.

Deacon's Corner

Thank you to all who attended the joyous celebration on November 8 for our 90 years and older HBPres members. Of the 37 members who have achieved this distinguished stage in life, 19 were with us including our oldest living member, Celeste Froehlich, a youthful 101. Others included George Bales, Estell Cochran, Bob Cox, Dorothy Cundiff, Betty DeWitt, Ruth Green, Jim Holt, Doris Jordan, Bruce Kinloch, Bob Kirzinger, Lois Louderback, Audrey McGrath, Merle Newlon, Barbara Noland, Ruth Rassinier, Margaret Rinne, Don Schalk and Clara Stone.

How great it was to see the "birthday" boys and girls and their families. What a delightful party we had. Special thanks to those who were helpers to make this event happen.

Merry Christmas! May God bless each member of our church with the true spirit of Christmas and keep that spirit alive in each of us throughout the new year.

The Deacon Board

Grocery Cart

The Grocery Cart items collected for the month of December will go towards the Cabbage Patch Christmas Baskets. Items needed for the Cabbage Patch Christmas Baskets are:

- Paper products (toilet paper, paper towels, facial tissue)
- Soap products (dishwashing soap, laundry soap, bar soap)

Other items donated will be given to St. MAM. If you have questions or concerns, please contact Wilma Bennett at 459-7705.

International Just Trade Craft Fair

This year's Just Trade Craft Fair takes place on Sunday, November 29 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. in Emory Hall. This is a great opportunity to do some early shopping and avoid the traffic in getting to the mall. Moreover, you will have the satisfaction of helping a small-crafts man/woman to earn a living and get out of poverty. Items will come from Central and South America, India, Palestine and Africa. As always, coffee and chocolate will also be on sale. Both are wonderful and can also provide important health benefits.

Congo Schools

Three hundred ninety-three primary students in Lutshuadi School and 175 students in Institute Buong School returned to a brand new building this fall, a vast improvement over the one they left in June with its leaking roofs and crumbling walls. This was the third school built since 2013. Proceeds from coffee, candy and craft sales will again go to the Build Congo Schools project as they look to add three classrooms to a very over-crowded school and reconstruct Lusamba School. Your support will help change the lives of hundreds of children in the Congo.

Worship and Music Committee Annual Report

As a committee, what does Worship and Music seem like versus what it is really like? Worship and Music sounds more abstract in application, like something that just occurs naturally and appears to run itself. When you participate in a worship service it may look and sound this way but the reality is that many jobs and responsibilities have to be undertaken to make worship run smoothly. Worship and Music committee members work every week on recruiting, scheduling and training members of the HBPres congregation to help with audio-visual crew, ushering and greeting, liturgical reading, and communion serving. (This often includes helping with communion prep and clean up, too.) This is who we are from a logistical standpoint. We also have to give time and consideration to what worship needs and expectations are relevant to our worshipping community. This year has been one of continuing growth, transition and exploration.

This past year the Session asked the Worship and Music Committee to make a recommendation on a worship schedule that would include two worship services that would not conflict with a separate Sunday school meeting time. The committee sponsored several opportunities to meet with members of the church to discuss the wants and needs of the then three worshipping congregations. About 60-75 people participated in the group discussions headed by Sara Sutphin. After lengthy discussion and deliberation, it was decided that having two worship services on Sunday morning would be best, rather than three. The earlier of the two services was planned to be at 9:00 a.m. and would be less formal and feature participatory liturgy and contemporary music. The second service would be the 11:00 a.m. Sanctuary service and feature diverse music and liturgy that would engage the worshipping community in a setting reflecting the beauty and mystery of our faith. The kick-off for this worship schedule began on September 20. For more information about the challenges surrounding the new early service, please refer to the previous article in this same newsletter (pg. 4).

Though we are still working on finding solutions to some of our worship needs here at HBPres, there is much to be proud of. The musical ensembles remain top-notch and quite diverse and they are growing. We have adult choir, Handbells ensemble, a multi-generational orchestra, a youth music ensemble, children's choirs and also many talented individuals who seem like a large music ensemble packed into one person. From a logistics standpoint, preparing for communion is working very efficiently now. With a new system in place, Pat and Kevin Pernicano have been recruiting and training HBPres members for communion prep and clean up. October 4 was also World Communion Sunday. The Korean Church, some of the youth, and many others participated in making this service a moving, Spirit-filled worship experience. At the time of this writing, we are nearing our special Centennial Homecoming Sunday Celebration on November 22. It promises to be a powerful worship experience that unites all generations of our congregation, past and present. By celebrating our past and present with these special worship experiences it also helps us look forward to and informs our future worship needs.

I want to thank all of the members of our committee for their hard work: Kim Harrod, Jane Doehnert, Leslie Koenig, Sara Sutphin, Pat Pernicano, Alice Judy, Diane DeLong and Jim Lewis. I also want to thank the music staff of Harvey Browne—Larry and Beth Brandenburg, Tim Baker, and Kathleen Yager—for their dedication to making worship and music at HBPres wonderful and meaningful. And to all of those who assist with worship as ushers, greeters, liturgists, communion servers, AV crew and participants in all the various music ensembles, thank you so much for making HBPres a great place to worship.

Allen Gilfert

HBPres University Winter Term Offerings

A Survey of Our Roots: As part of the Centennial Year, the winter term of HBU will offer a survey of our roots including the elusive Harvey Browne, the invisible Hugh Barret, the extensive contents of our church archives, and the exhausting conflicts of Presbyterians since they settled in Kentucky. Join us in the Session Room January 3 – 24.

Mariners Class: This class will join the Centennial class for the first four weeks of Winter Term. For the last two weeks, February 14 & 21, the Mariners will be led by Jim Lewis and his topic is: "Religion in America—what the polls can tell us and what they can't." As they report on the current state and future prospects of religion in American life, journalists often cite polls on American religion, such as Pew's 2014 U.S. Religious Landscape Study. What do these polls tell us about current American religious life? To what extent are the polls useful? What are their limits? The class meets in the Living Room.

Reformed Theology in a Sentence: When people described central theological distinctives of the Reformed tradition of which Presbyterians are a part, they sometimes refer to the "five points of Calvinism." In fact, these distinctives can be expressed in the single sentence: "If God desires to save us, God cannot fail." This class will explore the history of the "five points of Calvinism" and unpack their contribution to that single sentence. Tim Cargal will be leading these classes in Room 209.

Fast Faith & Together With Jesus: Will continue to meet every Sunday as scheduled.

Fall Hospitality Nights Provide Great Food and Company

A big thank you to our hosts for our fall Hospitality Nights in November: Jayne & Gary Hines, Janie & John Roper, Billie & Jack Valla, and Bill & Nancy Williamson. This fall we experimented with some larger size groups at some houses. I'd also like to thank others that offered to host. I hope we can count on you in the future.

It is already time to look ahead to our next round of dinners. The winter Hospitality Nights will offer a choice of Friday, February 19 or Sunday, February 28. Sometimes people prefer to get out earlier in the day during the winter. Would you be interested in a lunch or brunch in a home on a Sunday after the church service? If so, let me know. We like to find options to fit the interests and needs of our participants.

If you have never attended a Hospitality Night event, I'd especially encourage you to sign up. We enjoy having a mixture of new and longtime members to enjoy a potluck style dinner in a home. The host provides the entrée and beverages, others sign up to bring side dishes. By signing up to participate, you are not obligated to serve as a host. Sign up forms will be available in December and January.

Questions, suggestions, offers to host a dinner, or if you have an opinion on the idea of a winter brunch/lunch instead of dinner, please contact me at 893-7931 or jonikburke@gmail.com.

Thanks.

Joni Burke

News from Harvey Browne Preschool

We are having lots of fun this fall at Harvey Browne Preschool. We had a great time showing our families everything at our Open House and we celebrated Halloween by dressing up and trick or treating around the building. The kindergarten went to the nursing home next door dressed up in their costumes and sang songs for the residents, which they really enjoyed. We celebrated Thanksgiving by feasting with our parents and learned all about how the Pilgrims and Native Americans celebrated the first Thanksgiving. We have been collecting books for the Louisville Free Public Library for our autumn mission project.

Looking ahead, we will be celebrating Christmas with our Birthday Parties for Jesus on December 17 and 18. After their parties, the children will go to the Sanctuary to participate in the telling of the first Christmas and sing songs for their families. Santa will be here on December 8 and 14 taking time out of his busy schedule to visit. Every child looks forward to sitting on Santa's lap and telling him of their Christmas wishes. Our December mission project will be to clean out our toy boxes and donate a toy still in great condition to the Home of the Innocents.

Registration for the 2016-2017 school years is beginning and we would love to have as many of our HBPres children in the preschool as possible. As a church member you receive top priority in the registration process. We will be mailing registration information on January 4. The priority registration period ends January 15. You can register anytime between now and January 15 and be guaranteed a place in the school. If you have a particular class or days of the week that you want, you may register early in order to get your first choice. If you have questions or would like to take a tour, please contact the preschool office at 895-2577. We would love to talk with you and have your children here.

Lessons and Carols

Come join us on Sunday, December 20 at 11:00 a.m. for a service of Lessons and Carols with Communion. We will hear the story of the incarnation in scripture and song and join our voices and instruments in the narrative of Christ' birth in familiar carols.

Christmas Eve

5:00 p.m. - Children will lead us in experiencing the Christmas story as they sing and play and invite us to join in on carols old and new.

10:45 p.m. - Join us at 10:45 p.m. to hear choral and instrumental selections reflecting the joy of the season. At 11:00 p.m. we will all join our voices together in carols and songs and hear the story of Christ's Nativity in scripture. We also experience the mystery of the faith in communion and candlelight and will close with the singing of "Silent Night."

Friends like you at HBPres are a rare treasure. Thank you for your prayers, visits, cards, flowers, food and for being you. You have been a gift to my life!

John and Bill, you always raised my spirits with your prayers and visits. We are so blessed to have you as our ministers.

Thank you and God bless all of you,

Barbara Noland

My deepest appreciation and thanks to my faithful and caring church family, who have supported me through this difficult time. I feel surrounded and upheld by your loving concern shown through your many cards, notes and visits. I can't begin to express what they have meant.

Thank you,

Louise Pumpelly

I want to take this opportunity to thank the church family for the cards, phone calls, and other expressions of concern after the recent death of my daughter-in-law, Jaimie DeLoach, in Columbus, Georgia. Every one of these was appreciated. It really comforted me during this trying time.

Thanks so much to all,

Becky Eades

I feel so blessed to have a job that I love and to have so many HBPres members and staff that have shared their wishes, thoughts and prayers for a safe surgery and a speedy recovery.

I read the many cards I've received again the other day and felt so much joy and kindness. They truly warmed my heart.

I thank you all for the cards, calls and text. I am looking forward to returning as soon as possible.

Best wishes and blessings,

Tina Mosley
