Enjoying a Relationship

Jordan, our grandson, is currently reading to my wife, Janie, via Facetime. He has just learned to read and is pretty excited about sharing his newly found gift with someone he loves like his “Gran”. Needless to say, Janie is pretty excited about receiving it. As they talk the joy is obvious and the conversation is punctuated by giggles.

We are just as excited here at HB Pres as we begin a new year of church school, Wednesday night dinners and a new worship schedule. On September 20, we had our first contemporary worship service at its new 9:00 a.m. time. The service was well received with almost twice our normal attendance. Our band ranged in age from a sixth grade drummer to a 70+ bass player. Both sounded really good!

The service had all of the joy of an unexpected call from two of your three grandsons. God is just full of surprises. The same one who parted the Red Sea, gave Abraham and Sarah Isaac and sent his own son to redeem us and the rest of creation never tires of popping up for a “face-to-face” with you and with me.

Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

Revelation 3:20

Just as it is a source of joy to Janie for Jordan to read to her, we believe it is a source of joy for God when we worship him.

John

Figure out which worship service is for you, be it 9:00 or 11:00, and then decide which church school class you like. There are a lot of good ones. You may have done all of this dozens of times before but approach it like Jordan does one of his books. Let it all

P.S.—Stewardship season begins soon. It will be a time of giving joy to God by sharing our possessions. We believe this also puts a smile on God’s face.

Wellness Brief

Did you know?

- Hang out with happy people. Happiness is contagious.
- Random acts of kindness can restore hope and bring fresh strength to those who are desperate to believe someone cares.
- Triggers for headaches include decreased blood sugar (energy) and dehydration (oxygen) to the brain.
- You wouldn't worry so much about what other people think about you if you realize how seldom they do.

So long as we are being remembered, we remain alive. I will bless you so that you can be a blessing. (Gen.12:2)

Rewarded for Having Your Heart in the Right Place?

William Borden (1887 – 1913) was a Yale graduate and heir to a vast fortune. He lived frugally, gave away hundreds of thousands of dollars for missions and spent four zealous months as a missionary in Egypt before contracting meningitis and dying there at age twenty-five. He is buried in an overgrown, dusty, obscure gravesite among other American missionaries. By contrast King Tut, the boy king of Egypt, was buried at age seventeen among tons of gold. He had his reward on earth. Which man do you think is enjoying everlasting rewards in heaven?

Rewards are promised to Christ's followers. Among those rewards: some of us will reign with Christ (Rev. 20:6; Luke 19:12-19; 1 Corinthians 6:3). We will be given eternal rewards for doing good works (Ephesians 6:8; Romans 2:2, 10), for persevering under persecution (Luke 6:22-23), for showing compassion to the needy (Luke 14:13-14), for treating our enemies kindly (Luke 6:35) and for generous giving (Matt. 19:21).

Jesus is keeping track of our smallest acts of kindness (Matt. 10:42). God is keeping a record of all we do for God, including giving: "A scroll of remembrance was written in his presence concerning those who feared the Lord and honored his name" (Malachi 3:16). Imagine a scribe in heaven recording the bike you gave to the child in the projects, the books you gave to the prison, the monthly checks to missionaries and the church and the international orphanages. By being generous with God's property on earth, we become property owners in heaven.

But isn't it wrong to be motivated by rewards? If it were wrong, Christ wouldn't offer it to us as a motivation. Reward is his idea, not ours.

Our instinct is to give to those who will give us something in return. But Jesus told us to give "to the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind...Although they cannot repay you, you will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous" (Luke 14:12-14). If we give to those who can't reward us, Christ guarantees He will personally reward us in heaven.

Is your heart in the right place? Jesus said, "Where your treasure is, there your heart will be also." (Matt. 6:21) By telling us that our hearts follow our treasure, Jesus is saying, "Show me your checkbook, your VISA statements, your receipts and I will show you where your heart is."

Suppose you buy shares of General Motors. What happens? You suddenly develop an interest in General Motors. You read the financial pages and all articles you find about GM. Or suppose you are giving to African children with AIDS. When you see an article on the subject, you're hooked. Or if you are sending money to plant churches in India, when you hear of an earthquake, you watch the news and pray.

Just as the compass needle follows the north, your heart will follow your money.

God wants our hearts rather than our money. God doesn't just want us to stand outside of causes and dispassionately consider acts of philanthropy. God is looking for disciples immersed in the causes they give to. He wants people so filled with a vision of eternity that they wouldn't dream of not investing their money, time and prayers where they will matter most. And rewards will come.

Matthew 16:27 says, "For the Son of Man is going to come in his Father's glory with his angels, and then he will reward each person according to what he has done." Eternal rewards.

Do you wish you cared more for eternal things now? Reallocate some of your money (or most of your money) from temporal to eternal things and watch what happens.

From "The Treasure Principle" by Randy Alcorn.

Spiritual Enrichment Committee

It is an exciting time to be a member of HBPres. The Spiritual Enrichment Committee is involved with many awesome programs. But before I get into those I would like to introduce the people Linda Brantley and I as co-chairs have been blessed to work beside. They include Eleanor Nealis, Nanci Chasteen, Jennifer Hoert, Louise Pumpelly, Scott Blake and Kim Cabrera as our staff person. If you would be interested in joining this top notch group, please contact Linda or me.

SEC is responsible for the Wednesday night programs, which resumed September 16th with a successful crowd and great food. Our Sunday school program started up last month with a rousing response by the adults. All of the classes were full of participants who were eager to learn more about Christ and his teachings. Thanks to all of the teachers for their dedication to bringing their knowledge to us.

Presbyterian Women (PW) is an established program with an excellent attendance. It is involved in so many activities. If you are interested in the PW's, please contact Kim Cabrera or Linda Garrett. Ladies, keep up your Christian love.

Stephen Ministers is an excellent program to assist our ministers with congregational care. We currently have five care receivers who are being visited by their caregivers on a regular basis. If you know of anyone who may need a care giver, please call Kim Cabrera or Doug Earley.

HBPres also has a prayer group who meet regularly in the Prayer Room to pray for all of the people listed on our prayer list. This is a vital program for our church and we are blessed to have people willing to participate in this. The other side of this is our wellness group, which will offer clinics dealing on a variety of issues. They are also the folks who can be found in the Living Room after the 11:00 service on Sunday morning taking people's blood pressure.

We have a new member/door step group that will visit our new members with goodies and a Christian smile. And I can't forget to mention our Holy Grounds Coffee Cove. If you haven't stopped by our little section of "heaven" for coffee/tea and a snack, take time next Sunday and check it out. We have a variety of people who volunteer their time to maintain the Coffee Cove. Give them a hardy thanks.

What an amazing church we belong to with so many awesome volunteers. Don't forget to invite a friend and greet those you don't recognize.

Christmas Tree Gift Tags – Starting Nov. 15, come to the foyer, find the small Christmas Tree and choose a gift tag with a child’s name and interests. Buy a gift for that child then bring it back to the church no later than Dec. 6, wrapped with the tag attached to the package. Look for Anne Hughes.

Grocery Sorting – On Friday evening, December 11 at 6:00 p.m. we will be sorting donated and bought groceries in Emory (gym) for our 20 families. Stephen Ministers are lay people in our congregation who are trained to provide one-on-one care to those experiencing a difficult time in life. Those situations vary and might include grief, loneliness, divorce, job loss, chronic or terminal illness or being a caretaker of someone that is suffering with one of these.

The length of time we visit care receivers varies depending on the situation, but we usually meet once a week for about an hour. We also can do over-the-phone ministry if it is impossible to meet with the care receiver face-to-face.

Stephen Ministers come from different backgrounds. Their common bond is a passion for bringing the love and light of Christ to those facing difficult times.

To explore the process of becoming a Stephen Minister, or if you or someone you love could use our help, please call Doug Earley, our Stephen Ministry leader, at 599-7295, or speak to one of our pastors.

News from Harvey Browne Preschool

As we work our way into autumn, the children and staff at Harvey Browne Preschool are off to a fantastic start. Everyone is settling into their routines. The children are exploring new ideas every day and learning so much.

Chapel will begin soon with the children. This is a time set aside at the preschool for the children to connect with a minister and learn more about the word of God. The children really love it.

The committee that volunteers to organize our mission projects is meeting soon and there will be numerous opportunities for the children, their parents and the Harvey Browne congregation to participate in these projects. This begins to touch upon the importance of giving back with these young children, a lifelong and important lesson.

As always, we so appreciate your continued support. It is the people at HBPres that make our preschool so phenomenal.

In Christ,

The Preschool Board
