Promotional information

Today, we heat our homes, light our rooms, power our cars, prepare our food, and produce and distribute consumer goods with the help of fossil fuels. The science is clear: by the mid-20th century, human beings must find alternative energy sources to burning coal, oil, and natural gas. Each individual “doing our part” is a start, but a practical and visionary re-imagining for the future is needed. Calling for a technical and spiritual ground-shift, this book proposes “carbon boycotts” by groups and communities through changing what products are consumed, as well as, seeking new ways to work, live, and play to steer aggregate demand toward solar, wind, geothermal and renewable energy alternatives.

Furlough Home Announcement

The Furlough Home Executive Committee would like for you to know they have an on-line quarterly newsletter containing information about current residents and items they need. Currently, they need volunteers to help clean the apartments when someone vacates. The Housekeeping Committee typically does a “deep clean” in preparation for the new resident(s) that involves going over everything in a meticulous manner. Volunteers are needed on April 8 (Apt. #2), April 16 (Apt. #1), and July 9 (Apt #4). Watch for the Furlough Home Newsletter. To assist, please contact Pam Glaze at pamelamglaze@gmail.com
