The church has been 'a-buzz' the last few weeks here at Harvey Browne as everyone gets ready for our program year to begin. Classrooms are getting refreshed, bulletin boards are being updated, and schedules are being set. Just as schools prepared the month before for "back to school" season, your staff here at Harvey Browne have been preparing for the shift from summer mode to regular schedule – a shift we are excited to make!

The get us started, this month we are going back to "the beginning". Since 1989, ecumenical communities around the world have observed September as "The Season of Creation", marking September 1 as "The Feast Day of Creation" and closing out the season on October 4th, which is the Feast Day of St. Francis. In between those days, Catholic, Protestant, and Orthodox church partners use this time to renew our relationship with our Creator and all creation through celebration, conversion, and commitment together." Worship throughout September will focus on how we can live, with intention, as partners and stewards of this rich Creation of which we are a part.

To compliment this theme, we have several special opportunities for reflection, including:

- Reading together Rev. Rebecca Barnes' book, 50 Ways to Save the Earth: How You and Your Church Can Make a Difference. Twenty copies are available in the church office for the suggested donation of $5 each. Contact the church office or stop by if you would like a copy.
- The Presbyterian Women Kick-Off Luncheon on September 10th will feature Rebecca Barnes as its guest speaker. Rebecca will lead discussion of the new Horizons Bible Study, Let Justice Roll Down Like a Stream: God's Call to Care for Neighbors and All Creation. RSVP to Diane Osborne if you would like to attend.
- Larry Brandenburg, our Minister of Music, will lead an Issues Class following worship on September 22 to discuss the role of organic farming in preventing climate change.. Larry and his wife, Beth, own Harmony Fields Farm, a Certified Organic Farm that practices the principles of Sustainability and is dedicated to the importance of providing the best quality local produce and flowers.
- Tim Cargal will lead a "General Assembly Roundup" focusing on Environmental Justice Issues at the September 29th HBUniversity class.
- In addition, we invite our church members to share either how they are currently caring for the earth or how they hope to. We'll have a board in the foyer where you can post your plans! Let's take inspiration from one another to become better stewards of God's earth.

To God be the glory!

Fellowship at Harvey Browne

Cornerstones

Who remembers the group of members called the Cornerstones in the 1990s? We were parents with young children who enjoyed together a Sunday School class, fellowship, being youth advisors and sharing experiences of raising our children. Now that our children are grown and we have more free time, it's time to revive this group of 50-60 year olds for fellowship! If you were a member of the Cornerstones or current members and friends of Harvey Browne Church in your 50s and 60s and would like to get together, please join us for our first outing to Coals Pizza-Middletown location on September 26 at 6:30. Please RSVP to Anne Hughes (hughetaaj@gmail.com) by September 23 if you are able to join us.

Food Truck Friday

Come out for a Program Year Kick-off Food Truck Friday on September 13th. John McClure and Leslie Rodriguez will be our featured musicians for the evening, and Smok'N Cantina will provide the food. Mile Wide Brewery will again be joining us. We'll set up in the gym just to keep out of the heat, and the kids play area will be setup on the side. Should be a fun night! Spread the word.

Save the Date!

Save the date for the all-church fall camp out weekend! November 8-10, we have the Hilltop Pavilion and Whitetail Lodge reserved at Cedar Ridge Camp. Join fellow community members for all or part of the weekend. Everyone is welcome to tent camp, cabin camp, or come hang out during the daytime only. There will be hiking, campfires, games, and time to relax! More details will follow closer to the weekend. If you have any questions, please reach out to Doug and Audra Grogg.

Men's Prayer Breakfast

You're invited to come out on the 2nd Saturday of each month for a time of food and fellowship. We will have donuts and different speakers each month. The first meeting will be on Saturday, September 14 at 9:00am (note time correction) in Room 209. Hope to see you there!

Bi-Weekly Men's Group

Meets every other Monday at 8:15PM at the church. All adult men interested are welcome to attend. Please reach out to Steve Buckner via text, phone call, or email with questions.

Wednesday Night Dinners

Wednesday Night Dinner is back! Dinners will be catered by Kingsley Meats & Catering, one of Louisville's most popular catering companies. Kingsley will provide an entree, two sides, and a vegetarian entree. Meals are served from 5:15-6:00 pm. Meals include a salad bar, assorted desserts, and beverages that include iced tea, lemonade, water, and coffee. There is also a "children's table" with milk, chocolate syrup, bread, and peanut butter. We are asking for a suggested donation of $10 for adults and $5 for children, with a family cap at $25. But as with last year—please do not let cost keep you from attending! We will also have the option of paying electronically.

Come on out on September 11th for the first dinner of the program year!

Help-a-Thon

Do you ever wish you had an extra set of hands? How about a couple dozen extra hands? The youth will hold a Help-a-Thon fundraiser on Saturday, September 28. Here's how it will work: you will request a group of youth to come do a project for you or for someone else that afternoon, Renata will assign a group of youth and an adult volunteer to your project. You will show your appreciation by making a donation to the HB youth program. Everyone benefits! Contact renata@hbpres.net to sign-up.

Music Ministry at Harvey Browne

Who is Carl Orff

We have a musical ensemble for Children at Harvey Browne that utilize pitched percussion instruments such as Xylophones, Metallophones and Glockenspiels. The children sit on the floor and play these instruments with mallets creating melody and harmony. These instruments, called Orff instruments, are named for the German composer Carl Orff (1895-1982) who with his colleague Gunild Keetman developed a method for teaching children music call the Orff Schulwerk.

Children are assigned an instrument to play and are taught, by rote, a simple rhythmic pattern that when combined with others results in a complete piece of music with harmony and melody. The music is based on the pentatonic scale that you find in folk music. Many of the hymns that we sing in church are folk style hymns that utilize this scale, such as Amazing Grace. It's easy to determine if a tune is pentatonic. If you sit down at a piano you will see every octave has five black keys. If you can play the tune only using the black keys then it is pentatonic.

The Orff method can also utilize improvisation and speech patterns. We of course are primarily a children's choir, so while we don't usually improvise, our rhythmic patterns are frequently based on phrases or words. For example I teach syncopation using the pattern syn-co-pa ta-ta which sounds like the rhythm, but the children have creatively changed it to syn-co-pa-tay-toe. So we go with that!

So why do we take time to do Orff anyway? Well first, the children enjoy playing the instruments and 2nd, they learn to keep a steady beat, play a repeating pattern while listening to others and enjoy being part of an ensemble. We also hope that playing in church occasionally enhances our worship experience.

Children's Choirs

This year's Children's Choirs begin on Wednesday, September 11. I can't wait! I've been the director of the children's choir program at Harvey Browne for 27 years and for several years at many churches before that including over thirty years as an elementary music teacher in public schools

Along the way I have been privileged to have so many wonderful children involved in the children's choirs, including many of you who now have your own children beginning that journey. What a joy to see a second generation continuing in their parents' footsteps. Both of our sons grew up at Harvey Browne with participation in the choirs and in a couple of years maybe I'll get to have my grandson.

The experience many of our children had in HB Children's Choirs gave them the musical foundation that inspired them to continue their musical journey in their school music programs in middle, high school and even college. Some have even become music teachers or professional career musicians.

We begin when your child starts Kindergarten and through the 2nd grade, he/she will be in the Lyric Choir with Michelle Gilfert as their main director. (I'll help too.). Then from 3rd-5th grade they will move to a different room, and I will be their main director with Michelle's help.

I really feel that choir is helpful to your children, but it's even more helpful to our church's worship experience! We've been blessed these last few years with many children with beautiful voices who help our choirs sound lovely! BUT even if they don't have a wonderful singing voice their voices lifted in song are always beautiful and welcome in our choirs and worship services! And our congregation is always very appreciative of their musical offerings!

Singing in Choirs Provides Many Physical and Mental Health Benefits

According to recent research from Oxford University and Cornell University there are numerous health benefits from participating in choral singing.

1. Improving breathing, posture and muscle tension.
2. Regulating heart rate. This most interesting study discovered that choristers not only synchronize their voices but also their heartbeats.
3. Works as an effective pain killer. The release of neurochemicals like endorphins when singing is very similar to the “high” one experiences after intense exercise.
4. Sustaining a healthy immune system. Research has shown that singing in a choir reduces the stress hormone cortisol and boosts the Immunoglobulin A antibody: this evidence suggests that regular music and singing habits can play a role in maintaining healthy immune systems.
5. Improving symptoms of chronic disease. In a study from Cardiff University, researchers discovered that patients with lung cancer who engaged in choral singing had greater expiratory capacity than those who didn't. And when a choir was formed for people with Parkinson's Disease, participants felt their voices strengthening over time.
6. Improving the overall status of our physical health. The social connections made in choirs play a vital role in preserving our mental and physical health. It improves one's sense of wellbeing which has direct physical consequences for our bodies.
7. Improving memory. Since learning new songs is cognitively stimulating and requires the use of memory, it has been shown that singing can improve our mental agility and even help those suffering from dementia.
8. Reducing stress levels and depression. One study lasting for a year involving participants who had been involved with depression found that they no longer met that diagnosis following their involvement with a choir.
9. Being therapeutic. Music has been used throughout history in all cultures in healing rituals. There are actual trained Music Therapists who work hand in hand with medical professionals in providing healing through music.
10. Improving our overall sense of happiness and well being. Studies have found that people feel more positive after actively singing than they do after passively listening to music, or even chatting about positive life events.
11. Broadening social networks. Studies have shown that community singing leads people to bond with larger groups - a habit that helps people broaden their social networks.
12. Deepening a sense of togetherness, community and belonging. Research led by psychologist Nick Stewart of Bath University indicates that people who sing in a choir enjoy a greater feeling of togetherness and sense of being part of a collective endeavor than people involved in other social activities. And Stewart also discovered that participants in choral singing reported a higher rate of social well-being than solo singers.

And at Harvey Browne we have an opportunity for you to improve your physical, mental and social health every Wednesday night from 7:00-8:00 as we gather for rehearsal in the Sanctuary. We will provide a folder of music for you and a robe to wear when we sing on Sundays for the 10:30 worship service. And there are even more benefits than those listed above. Come try it out. No audition involved and no previous choral experience needed.

Your Instrumental Skills are Needed!

For many years Harvey Browne has had a group of players that gather to accompany hymns in worship and play the Opening Voluntary. We have gone through some changes over the last few years as people have moved away or graduated or for some other reason are no longer available to play. However, we also over the last couple of years have seen a healthy influx of new people here at Harvey Browne and you may not be aware that if you play an instrument, we have a place for you to join with others to make a joyful noise. When we can find a Sunday that most people can be present, we rehearse at 8:30 in the Sanctuary and play for the 10:30 service. If you would be interested in joining this effort, or have any questions, please email Larry Brandenburg at ldblouisville@yahoo.com

PW Luncheon

Come! Even if you are not involved in a PW Circle, join us for the Kick-off Luncheon on September 10th at 11:00 AM. Guest Speaker, Rev.
