You're Invited: First Impression Gatherings

Harvey Browne Memorial Presbyterian Church has been a faithful witness in our community for 110 years. We are the benefactors of generations of faithful believers who have worshipped, served, and given long before we were born or joined this church. As we experience a season of growth and renewal here at Harvey Browne, the time has come for us to step up and take our place in this lineage of faith.

Over two years ago, the Session created a task force commissioned with exploring the best way forward for the future of the Chapel wing. Upon receiving the task force recommendations, the Session chose to expand the vision to include our entire facility. They created a building committee to move forward with the task force recommendations for faithfully caring for our facility while also visioning how we can maximize our ability to meet our ministry needs into the future. After extensive research and discernment, they have created a vision for how our facility can best serve our congregation, our preschool, our church partners, and those who have not yet walked through our doors. Now, they are eager to share that vision with you!

In early December, we will host two "first impression" gatherings where our building committee will share the vision it has developed and the projects we believe are necessary for getting us there. These are called "first impression" gatherings because we are still in the planning phase. We have talked with each of our committees, received their input, and now we want to hear from the entire Harvey Browne family as we consider next steps for moving forward. We hope that everyone in our Harvey Browne community will attend.

The "first impression" gatherings are schedule as follows:

· Wednesday, December 2nd at 6:00 in Eline Hall
· Sunday, December 6th after worship in Emory Hall (lunch provided)

Please let us know your plans for attending by visiting hbpres.net/sign-up or by calling the church office to RSVP.

I am excited for these conversations and for the future God has in store for Harvey Browne.

Christine

Come to the chapel on Wednesday, November 4 at 6:00 for a lecture recital that will explore the First World War through the voices of those who lived it. Featuring Robert Rennie, Megan Durham, and Chris, Harbeson-Borgelt, this program will weave together poetry, historical narrative, popular songs, and art song to trace the arc of the war from the optimism of 1914 through the devastation of the trenches and into the lasting legacy of remembrance. Accessible to both music lovers and history enthusiasts, this engaging lecture recital offers a thoughtful and moving exploration of how music bears witness to history, preserving stories of hope, sacrifice, loss, and resilience that continue to resonate today.

FRIENDS CLASS MALAWI BOOK COLLECTION

Friends class would like to invite Harvey Browners to participate in another book drive for children and youth in Malawi. Rochelle Holms will distribute the books to their local schools and community groups.

Here is an updated wish list:

*especially a need/gap for middle to high school level books.
*easy chapter books
*Soccer books (even if it is older books it is ok)
*Craft how-to books such as crochet and knitting (this may help reluctant readers and they often have good photos)
*Art and drawing books (again, this may help reluctant readers and often have good photos)
*poetry
*cookbooks (again, for reluctant readers sometimes easy cookbooks can be a window into fun reading. Things such as basic Betty Crocker cookbooks come to mind as a really good fit for this need).
*Any level and topic of National Geographic (these books often have good photos and content and for reluctant readers or those behind reading level even elementary level books at middle or high school can be slipped in with no shame).
*Harry Potter, Nancy Drew, Honest June, Babysitters Club, Hardy Boys, Percy Jackson, or other similar middle school series
*As many copies as possible of The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind of any version (there are 3 versions - picture, middle-grade, and the grownup version) (Rochelle advises it is best to stay away from topics of witchcraft, vampires, or Halloween books. Though Harry Potter or Percy Jackson or Magic Treehouse are fine.) Used books in good condition are welcome. There will be a box in the main office to drop your contributions by Weds November 18. Thanks as always for your generosity.

SESSION MINUTES

The Session of Harvey Browne Presbyterian Church met for a regular Stated Meeting on October 6. Following a prayer by Kim Harrod the following business was handled:

- Brian Pollock, Co-chair of the Trustees, gave a report from the Board of Trustees.
- Jim Rissler, Chair of the Building Committee, updated Session on the work of that committee.
- Rev. Christine Coy Fohr and Rev. Katherine Kupar gave their reports.
- Reviewed the Annual Financial Review that was performed by two CPAs from PC(USA). No deviations from policy or prior recommendations were found, nor did they encounter any concerns with the documents they reviewed.
- Reviewed financials as of August 31, 2026.
- Approved placing the net proceeds from the sale of the Manse, $431,130.52, in the Endowment with a line item for "Manse Memorial Investment Income."
- Robert Rennie will lead a group to work on an Anti-Racism Policy for Harvey Browne Church.
- Heard reports from committees.

Anne Hughes, Clerk of Session

Our Manse
The Legacy Continues

A lot of work and prayer went into moving Harvey Browne from its original location on Bauer Avenue to our church home today. By the 1920s, church leaders knew that the congregation would soon outgrow its original space, but it wasn't until 1950 that ground was officially broken at what is now the chapel. In the years between, the church considered many options for its growing congregation. One was to build the new church at Nanz and Breckenridge, but that site didn't allow for enough parking. Another was to buy the Beargrass Christian Church building, but their congregation decided to stay. For a time, the congregation worshipped at the Vogue Theater until Tony Eline, a local real-estate developer whose family was among Harvey Browne's original members, provided a lot at the northeast corner of Browns Lane and Church Way.

A critical piece of the church building's move included moving the home for the pastor. The Elines proposed that the old manse, located on Meridian Avenue, be sold and that the new manse be built on the new church property at no additional cost. The four-bedroom brick house was completed in October 1949, first housing the family of Rev. Olaf Anderson and later that of Rev. Joe Mullin. Those years saw the Harvey Browne membership grow exponentially from several hundred members in 1950 to nearly 2,000 by 1970. In that time, the membership's growth quickly outpaced the church's ability to build more space, which meant that church meetings often took place in the manse. Gatherings of all kinds – from session committees to the youth group – often happened in the living room before the new Christian Education wing of the church was completed.

When Tom Jones was called in 1970, he and his wife felt the manse was too small for their family with five children. As a result, the Session voted to rent the property to Dr. Emory Willey, a church member and dentist, who converted the space into a dental office. Over the years, Emory Willey shared the space with an orthodontist and an engineer before sharing his practice with his son, David, who is also a dentist. When Dr. Emory Willey retired, Dr. David Willey continued renting the manse for his practice. In May of this past year, Dr. Willey shared with us his plans to retire and sell his practice.

Upon learning of Dr. Willey's plans, the Session formed a Manse Task Force to discern the best use of the property. The task force contacted local mission organizations to gauge interest, as well as church staff and session members for ideas. It became clear, however, that because the space had been converted into a dental office, repurposing the building – either for ministry or for rental - would have required significant expenditures. It was determined that the best course of action was to sell the building.

When an offer was made in July of 2026, the Session called a congregational meeting to vote on the sale of the property. Once the congregation voted to approve the sale, Mid-Kentucky Presbytery's Finance Committee and Coordinating Commission of Mid-Kentucky also voted to approve the sale. The manse was officially sold on September 17, 2026.

At the October 6th Session meeting, the Session voted to place the proceeds of the sale of the Manse into the Endowment Fund, creating a permanent line item in the church budget called the "Manse Memorial Investment Fund" where the growth and proceeds from the manse's sale can be tracked. At the current annual rate of draw, the Manse Memorial Investment Fund income will be nearly identical to the amount we have received in rental income over the past 50+ years.

Many thanks to our Manse Task Force (Anne Hughes, Doug Curnutte, Jim Mackell, Maggie Chilton, Becky Evans, and Mary Esch) for their hard work on this important decision. What a gift it is to know that the legacy of our church's manse will continue to support the congregation that built it with vision and hope so many years ago. Thanks be to God!

Christine Coy Fohr

(Many thanks to Frank Anderson for sharing some of his memories, for Rev. Dr. Tom Jones, and for the continued blessing of Gary Luhr's church history)

BOOKANALIA

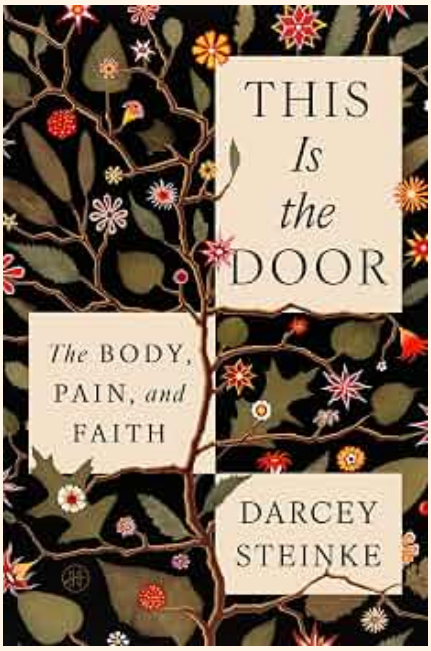

The Bookanalia selection for November 2026 is Song for Another Home by Bora Lee Reed. Bookanalia is a longstanding Harvey Browne Book Club that meets once a month during Weds night programming in the Session Room (Room 221). The next meeting is November 18 from 6-7pm. All are welcome!

She holds an M.F.A. in creative writing from Warren Wilson College and a master's degree in theology from the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley, and was a 2023 Reese's Book Club LitUp fellow. (She's also Nancy Pollock's niece!) We anticipate that Reed will join us by Zoom!

PASTOR'S BOOK GROUP

The Pastor's Book Group will meet in the Living Room on December 6 at 4:00 PM. Our book will be The Body, Pain, and Faith by Darcey Steinke All are welcome to attend.

HOT BROWNE, A SECOND HELPING

Thanks to many people within the HB community & beyond, we have made our wonderful custodian, Tim Miller, very happy. All our Hot Browne, A Second Helping cookbooks are gone! There may be a few here & there around the church but all the boxes are empty! Many thanks to all who helped with this effort, Linda Garrett & Scott Blake who helped before the big giveaway happened. Bob Brown delivered 2 boxes to St. MAM, Maggie Chilton gave some to her dancers. I must thank my 9 Hole Seneca League golfers who were thrilled to take so many. People around me at church got some too. Everyone was thrilled to get one. Habitat enjoyed a delicious dessert made for them by a golfing friend from Springdale Presbyterian & asked for the recipe. My beautician's beauty shop gave away many too.

Many thanks, Lynn Cole

HARVEY BROWNE PRESCHOOL NEWS

October was lovely at the preschool! In addition to Halloween parties and parades at the end of October, we welcomed families for our annual Family Night in mid-October. This is a chance for the child to be the expert of the school! It is wonderful to see the children's growth from the beginning of the school year to now.They walk into the building confidently and are so excited to show off their classrooms!

November will be another busy month! We will kick off the month with fall conferences; this is an opportunity to have face-to-face meetings with each family to discuss the growth of their child in the preschool and kindergarten. As a play-based, developmentally appropriate school, we are confident in our play-based curriculum and the way it supports our youngest learners. Conferences give us a chance to share observations and discuss how we are meeting each child's needs. We value this 1:1 time with our families.

In November, we will wrap up our first mission project of the school year. Harvey Browne Preschool conducts an annual Fall Food Drive to support St. Matthews Area Ministries. In the fall, we like to restock the pantry at St. MAM. Last year we collected over 350 pounds of needed food items! If you would like to participate, we will have drop boxes in the foyer by the grocery cart, labeled for St. MAM from October 26-November 11. They need canned items: meats, soups, beans, & fruit. Our kindergarten class will take a walking field trip over to St. MAM at the end of the month to label cans and learn more about how this amazing non-profit supports the St. Matthews community.

November will wrap up with Thanksgiving celebrations ranging from Friendsgiving classroom feasts to our kindergarten's tradition of making stone soup! It is a delightful time at the preschool.

It feels like we just started this school year, but we are already thinking about next year! Harvey Browne Preschool will begin enrolling for the 27/28 school year in mid-November! We will have openings in our 2's, 3's, 4's, and kindergarten program. Harvey Browne Church members receive priority registration and reduced tuition. In mid-November, you can find our 27/28 registration paperwork on our website, www.harveybrownepreschool.org, and at the welcome center in the foyer. Please contact the preschool office to learn more about our preschool program. I would love to show you what makes Harvey Browne Preschool so special!

Many Thanks,
Amy Squires, Director

ADVENT BUDDIES

Advent Buddies - The Advent Buddy program is an opportunity for adults and children (through fifth grade) to better get to know one another at Harvey Browne. Each child is paired with an adult who will journey with them throughout the Advent season in the weeks leading up to Christmas. Advent buddies will be announced at the Advent Kickoff Party on November 29 after worship. Buddies will be paired and complete an Advent activity together. On Sundays December 6 and 13 adult buddies will be responsible for leaving a note, card, or prayer in their child buddy's mailbox which will accompany a small trinket provided by the Christian Education Committee. On the final Sunday, December 20 adult buddies may leave a small gift ($15 or less) in their child buddy's mailbox. The deadline to sign up is Sunday, November 22. Sign up to participate (adults and children) at hbpres.net/sign-up.

FAQs

Q: Do I have to be present each Sunday in Advent in order to be a buddy?

A: No. It would be great if buddies are able to attend the Advent Kickoff Party on Sunday, November 29 so that they can connect with their buddy at the lunch. On other Sundays, adult buddies may leave their note in the mailbox at any time or give to a friend or HB staff to put in the mailbox.

Q: Are adult buddies supposed to give a gift to their buddy each Sunday of Advent?

A: No. Adult Advent Buddies will only be responsible for providing a small gift (less than $15) to their buddy on the final Sunday, December 20. On December 6 and 13 adult buddies are encouraged to leave a note or card or prayer in their buddy's mailbox which will accompany a small trinket provided by the Christian Education Committee.

Q: Are children encouraged to give their Adult Buddy notes or cards?

A: Yes, child buddies could give their adult buddy a note or drawing or card at any time during Advent.

Q: If I wanted to give my buddy a gift each Sunday of Advent, could I still do that?

A: That's so thoughtful! However, the goal of Advent buddies is relationships and connection, and we strive for the experience to be somewhat equitable for each child, so we ask that you stick with just the one gift on Sunday, December 20.
